James Tawney is a partner at Tawney, Acosta & Chaparro P.C. Truck Crash and Injury Attorneys with offices in New Mexico, Texas, and Arizona. He is a member of ABOTA and was recently named the Most Outstanding Lawyer by the El Paso Bar Association. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the New Mexico Trial Lawyers Association, a former Board of Director for the Texas Trial Lawyers Association, and serves as the New Mexico Minority Caucus representative for AAJ. He has been repeatedly named a Superlawyer by both Texas Superlawyers and Southwest Superlawyers. His practice focuses primarily on representing victims of truck crashes and he has obtained multiple multi-million dollar verdicts and settlements, including being part of the trial team as a young lawyer that secured New Mexico's largest wrongful death truck crash verdict. In the last 18 months alone, he and his team secured two multi-million dollar truck crash verdicts. He sits on the Alumni Association Board for Texas Tech University School of Law and is a proud husband and girl dad of two.
